Event Safety

The safety of all participants is of paramount importance during this event. If we work in a safe environment, all of us – Scouts, leaders, Museum staff, instructors and volunteers – will have a good experience. If we are not safe, we will not learn or have fun. The Museum asks that all participants pay special attention to these safety rules:

Be Prepared ..... For most of you this will be your first visit to the National Railroad Museum. You will be exploring new territory with large pieces of railroad equipment. Stay alert and follow the direction of your instructors, the Museum staff and your adult leaders. Dress for the weather.

Museum Safety ..... 1. WALK, always WALK. Please, while you are at the Museum, there is no need, at all, to run! Always walk. This rule will be strictly enforced.

2. Scouts are encouraged to explore the Museum and its collection. Please obey the “Safety First – Do Not Climb” signs. Enter equipment only where stairs are provided. A game, of any kind, horseplay or other goofing around is not allowed inside any of the railroad equipment.

2. The Shop Area is closed to all participants.

3. Nothing may be thrown or dropped from the Museum’s Observation Tower. Anyone found engaging in this activity will be escorted from the Museum and will forfeit their opportunity to earn the Railroad merit badge.

Train Safety ..... 1. Expect a train on any track, from either direction, at any time. Do not challenge a moving train in any way. When crossing train tracks stop and look both ways before proceeding.

2. Do not cross any railroad bridge on foot.

Anyone found engaging in this activity will be escorted from the Museum and will forfeit their opportunity to earn the Railroad merit badge

3. Please step over the rails, not on them. The rails will be very slippery.
